Join us for the 2018 Enid Women in Business Quarterly Series. These events provide an opportunity to learn, promote leadership, gain exposure, and cultivate profitable business connections. This series is the perfect place for women to come together to listen and support other women in business.

This quarter's event: Negotiating 1.1

Jody Harris shares 5 steps to make women better negotiators. In the time you spend with her, she will give you real life techniques of how to negotiate a loan, business transactions, your home life, and even your relationship with your kids. Jody wants every woman to be successful negotiators through their life's journey, so they can put their time and energy into the things that matter to them.

Speaker: Jody Harris

Jody is the CEO and Founder of Jody Harris Inc. and inventor of the award-winning ZippedMe and YukBGone to solve everyday problems. Her desire and passion of giving women a voice led her to launch her publishing company, Symphony Publishing.

Jody's 30 years of experience in corporate America, being a mother of 3 and a successful business owner has taught her to be one of the most powerful negotiators in the business sector.
